CITY AS METABOLISM

"LIKE POCKETS OF GREEN TAKING OVER"

A paper model of a tree is the central focus. The canopy is made of green paper, with a large, jagged green section in the foreground and a smaller, more rectangular green section above it. A blue paper trunk extends downwards from the canopy. Two small human figures are placed within the model: one is standing on the green surface of the upper canopy, and the other is lying on the green surface of the lower, larger canopy section. The entire model is set against a dark, textured background.

GREEN SHADES

A sculpture made of green paper bags. The top bag is torn, revealing a hand. Below it is another green bag, also with a hand visible through a tear. The entire structure is set against a black background with yellow rectangular blocks at the base.
